Years, tears, and cheers A

RAGSDALE

FOREWORD

We have all spent many long, difficult days and hours in earning our diplomas. We thought they were difficult, at any rate. But now, as the time for graduation grows nearer, we see that the hard part is still to come. Saying good-by is always difficult, and a diploma is an unspoken farewell. The memories come back clearly now, the twelve years of dedication, of salty tears and pride in achievement. We seniors have endured the years, hidden our tears, and welcomed your cheers; but now we must leave. We leave you this annual as our farewell. Saying good-by is always difficult.

THE years . . .

What makes a year, or years?

Memories, that's what--social life in the downstairs area, class changes, new and interesting subjects, varied assembly programs, and even report cards.

What makes a tear, or tears?

Difficult assignments, lost ballgames, the spell cast by homecoming, problems of growing up, and the thoughts of graduation-- That's what does it.

THE tears . . .

THE cheers . . .

What makes cheer, or cheers? Pep rallies are one thing, but victory is the best medicine. We have had our share--the girls' undefeated basketball team, the boys' baseball championship, and regular season victories--Just what the doctor ordered.

DEDICATION

She is more than just a secretary. During the past years she has been a friend to all the students. Whenever a pupil needed some help or had a form to be filled out by the office, Audrey was the one he turned to. Now it's our turn to show our appreciation for her job well-done. We, the class of '62 gratefully dedicate this, the 1962 ECHO to MRS. AUDREY WRIKE -- the secretary of all secretaries.

Administration

ADMINISTRATION

Our administrative leaders and our instructors have guided us through our years, have joined with us in our cheers, and have even wiped away an occasional tear. They have helped us to keep on the right path, they have led us to acquire knowledge, and they have always been ready to give us words of encouragement when we have been faced with difficulties and disappointments. To them we say "thanks"

Principal's message

I wish to take this opportunity to commend the ECHO staff for the excellent work they have done in producing this annual. They have worked long hours in the preparation of this book, and their only reward is the satisfaction of a job well done.

May this volume of the ECHO bring to each student at Ragsdale many happy memories of the year 1962.

Classes

CLASSES

1961-62 . . . a school year to remember! 886 . . . the students who will remember it. The 347 freshmen will carry the scars of many new experiences into their next three years of high school -- scars that were well earned, scars that will be remembered, especially next year. And what a difference a year makes! Just ask any one of the 226 sophomores. Only one year but many important moments separate them from the elite, the "upper classmen". The Juniors, 176 strong, have reached the third plateau, and with it come the privileges, responsibilities, and cheers that they deserve. 137 seniors . . . young men and women for whom the years and cheers have passed quickly. The tears are waiting patiently for graduation. Ragsdale High . . . a school to remember.

SENIOR CLASS

Our senior year . . . the year toward which we have been striving since we were small children. The year has been like no other; it has been special in a somewhat intangible way. Perhaps it's the extra respect and admiration given us by the underclassmen, our special privileges, or the special feeling of unity among the class. At any rate, our senior year, as anticipated, has been wonderful.

As the senior year ends, there are many sad but, at the same time, happy faces. There is sadness because we realize that we may never see many of our classmates again and that all we have left of our twelve years is fond memories. There is happiness because, to the seniors, graduation is but the threshold which leads to a promising future, holding still more fond memories; and the future is as close as tomorrow.

We have our blasts and flash our rings -

We're seniors now; we dig such things.

The road was rough, and the trip was long,

Yet somehow we made it, one thirty strong.

But being a senior is not quite all smiles,

It's just hard to laugh down graduation aisles.

They'll set us free soon each boy and cute girl,

We just thought we would warn you -- look out world!

You might as well give up, Don and Susie; you won't find anyone anywhere at school with whom you haven't already become friends. That's the only trouble with being the Friendliest Seniors!

What's this? Do my eyes deceive me, or are these Al and Suzanne, our Most Likely to Succeed? I wonder what they have against banks?

No, these aren't the new janitors. They're Jackie and Leslie, our Best All A-round, who can't be satisfied with just having a hand in all school activities. This is their new project, "Let's Clean Up Ragsdale."

Almost every senior goes to the ball game each week, and our Most Typical seniors are no exception. Better hurry, Billy and Alma, here comes Mr. Moran!

JUNIOR CLASS

Our Junior year has been a year we shall never forget. The wonderful feeling of at last being an upper-classman, the excitement of receiving the familiar blue and gold symbol of Ragsdale High (our class rings), and the fun of competition and hard work which went into the selling of magazines have given this year special significance for us. To complete a wonderful year, we experienced the thrill of being host to the senior class at our first Junior-Senior Prom, realizing that next year we would be in their place. Yes, this has truly been a wonderful year, and all of its tears and cheers we shall never forget.

We're proud to be a junior.

A class that's mighty cool.

They stopped our running in the hall,
So we tried to run the school.

Yet maybe you can see your way
To let our actions pass.

We slaved two years to have our say;

We're in the "upper class"!

SOPHOMORE CLASS

As sophomores at Ragsdale, we have become familiar with the routine of high school life: getting to class on time, pep rallies, assemblies, trying to solve those algebra problems, and writing themes in English. The first two years of high school have offered many more new and different activities. We've joined more clubs this year and have been offered the chances to participate in sports. Our cheers have been loud and long, showing a true school spirit for our teams. The tears that we shed were the reward for long hours of study and worry that high school life offered. We will never forget our first two years of high school that have been filled with fun, friendship, and hard study. We look forward to next year when we, as upper classmen, will have many more cheers and tears for our last years at Ragsdale High.

A sophomore's fate is not so tough,

At least he's through with freshmen stuff

He just cuts up cats and then heads for world hist'ry.

How he sleeps through them both is really a myst'ry

But sophomores are sophs, and can't take the blame

If given the chance, we would all do the same.

So stay as you are sophs. . .no teachers will weep.

They're just like us all, we like you. . .asleep.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The freshmen have just begun their "years" at Ragsdale High. This first year has offered many new opportunities through the varied classes and activities. This is the year in which they have been introduced to the many clubs that they will join in the coming years. Perhaps it is these clubs which make the freshmen realize that high school can be fun; or it might have been the excitement and cheers at the various sports activities which have enabled them to start this first year filled with school spirit. There will be worries, headaches, and hard times, but there will also be achievements, fun, and laughter.

Four years hence, when the freshmen look back on this first year at Ragsdale, they will find it a year filled with cheers for the varied activities in which they participated and perhaps a few tears.

See the happy freshmen?

They think they've got it made.

They think they've got a chance to win

This battle of the grades.

But frosh must learn a few cold facts

That stare them in the face

A freshmen's job is short and sweet:

They're here to take up space!

HOME OF THE TIGERS

Rapids' school spirit has always been great, and the '61-'62 year was no different. The pep, vim, and vigor of the cheerleaders added much zest to the athletic events this year. Mrs. Rose Carlin, the new sponsor, encouraged and greatly helped the cheerleaders with more ideas for pep rallies, new cheers, and projects. With her help and the efforts of these cheerleaders, the cheerleaders set a new record home and victory celebration. The school spirit of the Tigers is at its best.

VARSITY BOYS' BASKETBALL

Two More Points

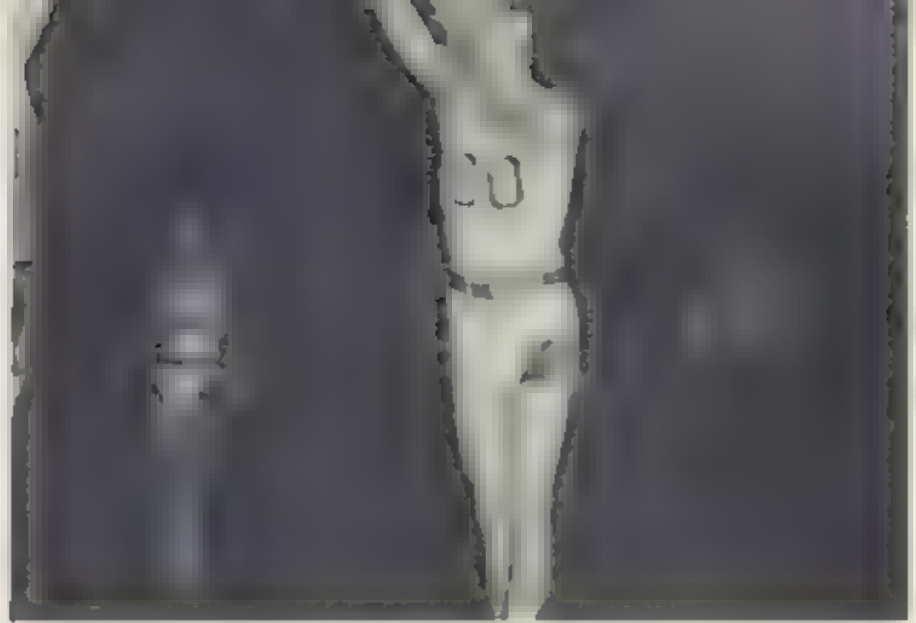

Teamwork was the chief characteristic of the 1961-62 "Flying Tigers." At the beginning of the season Coach Davidson made it quite clear that if the team wanted to win, they would have to play together. Teamwork has been quite evident throughout the entire season; stress has been on playing as a unit rather than as individuals.

The "Tigers" started off with four veterans of last year's team, and in addition there were several top reserves who had seen considerable action last season. The team was more aggressive and played more spiritedly, particularly on the fast break and its use of the full-court press. Judging from the success of preliminary games, the "Flying Tigers" gave promise of being capable of winning a majority of their games.

As the ECHO goes to press, the Girl's Varsity Basketball team of 81-82 is having a little trouble winning, but the girls are putting up a good fight. Although they do not have a championship squad, the team has shown great hustle, determination, and good sportsmanship under the fine coaching of Mr. Don Scalf.

Whether in victory or defeat, the Tigerettes, as true athletes, are ever proud to wear the "blue and white" for Ragsdale High.

J. V. FOOTBALL

The J. V. football team worked twice as hard this year as it did last year. Their fine sportsmanship and will to win gave them an undefeated season. From their ability to handle the ball, they are sure to be the stars of future Tiger teams.

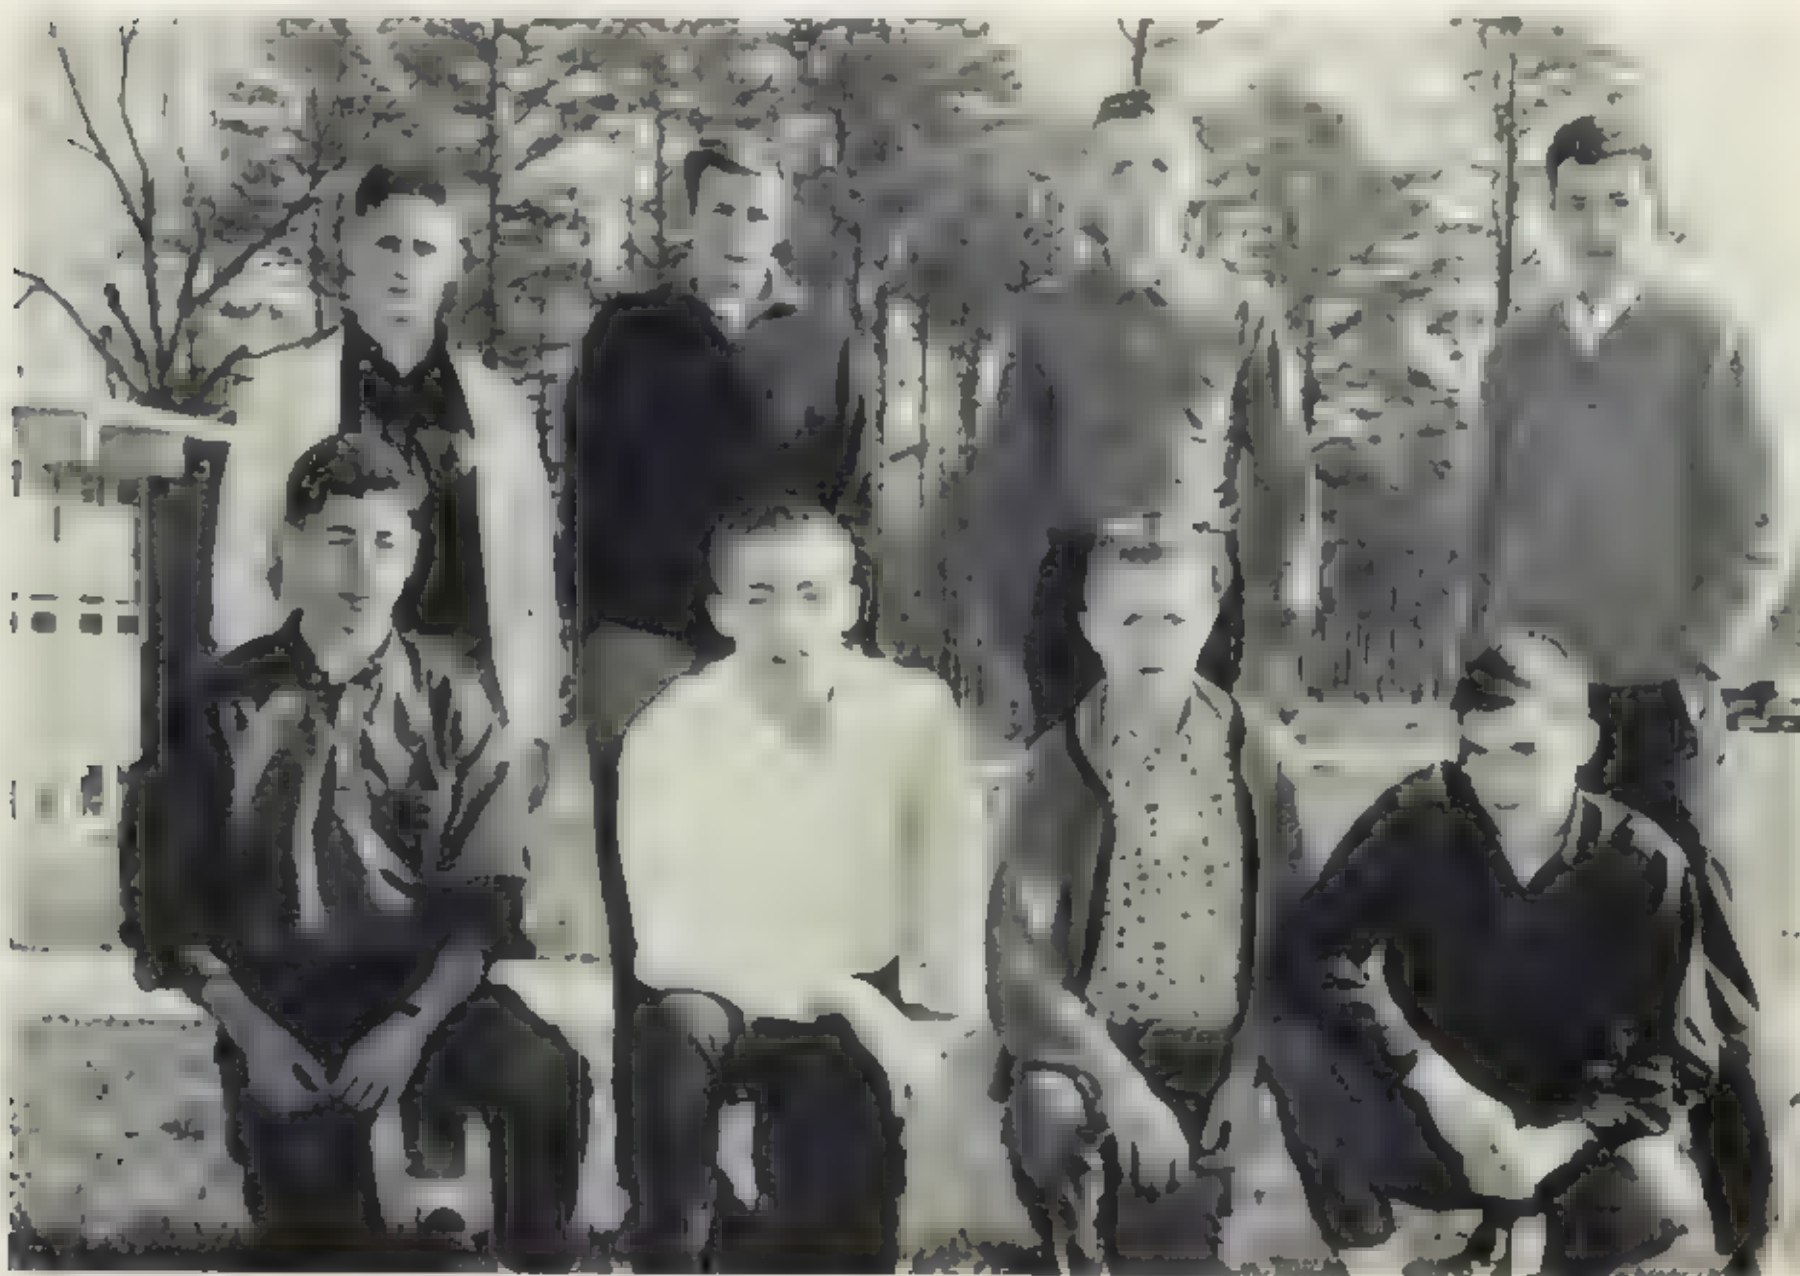

This year the golf team had several games on schedule. They held extensive practice in the fall and spring months. The boys had a very successful season this year.

COUNCIL

The student council received its new official name this year. It is now known as the Lucy C. Ragsdale High School Student Council. The council rewrote and put into effect a new school constitution.

The student council has contributed much to the everyday life of the school this year. Its chief project was the promotion of the student area downstairs. In addition it has presented daily devotions, provided assembly programs, and sponsored sock hops.

The officers of the council attended the Convention of North Carolina Student Council Congress in Fayetteville. They brought back much information which has been helpful to the council throughout the year.

Through the past the ECHO has become an outstanding memento of school life at Ragsdale. Each year the students add another volume to their collection, which they will treasure forever. This year the ECHO staff has worked diligently and unceasingly to give the student body at Ragsdale the very finest edition of the ECHO yet, The ECHO of 1962.

This is the second in a series of articles on N. C. colleges to help students decide where to go to college. The college is discussion is East Carolina.)

What do you like most about your school?

I like the people at E. C. C. They are extremely friendly. The size of the school. Although it is considered a small college, everyone knows practically everyone else. It has the best business departments in the state and is really growing."

What do you dislike most about E. C. C.?

The campus is spread out and requires a lot of walking. Freshmen aren't allowed to have cars on the campus in the Greenville area. Since there are no Saturday classes, people go home for the week-end and this weakens the spirit."

"E. C. C. has a fairly large campus and there is a marked contrast in the architecture of the buildings. Some are really old and picturesque, while others are new and more functional. There are many pines and oaks on the campus, which is very well landscaped."

Describe the student-faculty relationship at your school.

"There is quite a difference between college student-faculty relationship and high school. The first thing is that you are always addressed as Mr. _____ or Miss _____. This makes you feel more adult. There is no prompting from the faculty to make you study and as long as you are doing you can do as you please in class with no coaching by the instructor to pay attention. You can easily sleep your way out of college. If you don't do your work, nothing is said and the instructor smiles as he flunks you."

Wind Box

By Cheryl Venable

At 10 and early Saturday morning November 4, the Senior band boarded a chartered bus for Chapel Hill. The bus arrived in Chapel Hill around 10 o'clock and at 11 o'clock they rehearsed for the Lifetime Show. At noon we were dismissed to eat lunch and then the campus over.

Some of the band members brought picnic lunches. Some decided to eat at the well known "Ratskeller."

At 1:45 all the bands reported to their designated places in the gym and awaited the kickoff between Tennessee and Carolina.

Our band participated with 52 other high school bands in the colorful half-time ceremonies.

Unfortunately there were a couple of accidents — Clay Neal left his trumpet at home and Glen Rogers forgot — of all things — his uniform!!!

Jennifer Gschwind, Nancy Hiley, Becky Hill, Kay T. Leatha Elliot, and Sherry sang "The Way You Look Tonight."

Next Jerry Wall and his rabbit played a trumpet solo "For Two."

The last number was "Yacht Song" sung by Pam Johnston, Nina, Rosie McFadden, Pam, Marsha Litze, Ann Wyrick, Lance Laughridge

HI-LIGHTS STAFF

The Hi-Lights staff has worked diligently collecting and organizing news for the publication of the paper. The editors, along with the staff, try to publish a paper which provides a view of all events and activities happening during the school months.

The Hi-Lights contains club news, class news, sports, feature articles, and jokes. This year the staff hi-lights a college each issue. The paper could not be published without the help of each of the thirty-one members of the staff.

Perhaps the band can best be described as one of the most spirited and active groups at school. Whether it's hard work or just plain fun the band is always ready and willing to join in.

As for school spirit the band has participated in all the half time shows at the football games and has assisted the Cheerleaders at the pep rallies. Much hard work was put into the chapel and P. T. A. programs which they gave during the year.

Other activities in which the band has participated were the music contest, Band day, and the High Point Christmas Parade. The band project was the selling of the "World's Finest Chocolate." The sale turned out to be very profitable.

Mrs. Lucy Oliver
Librarian

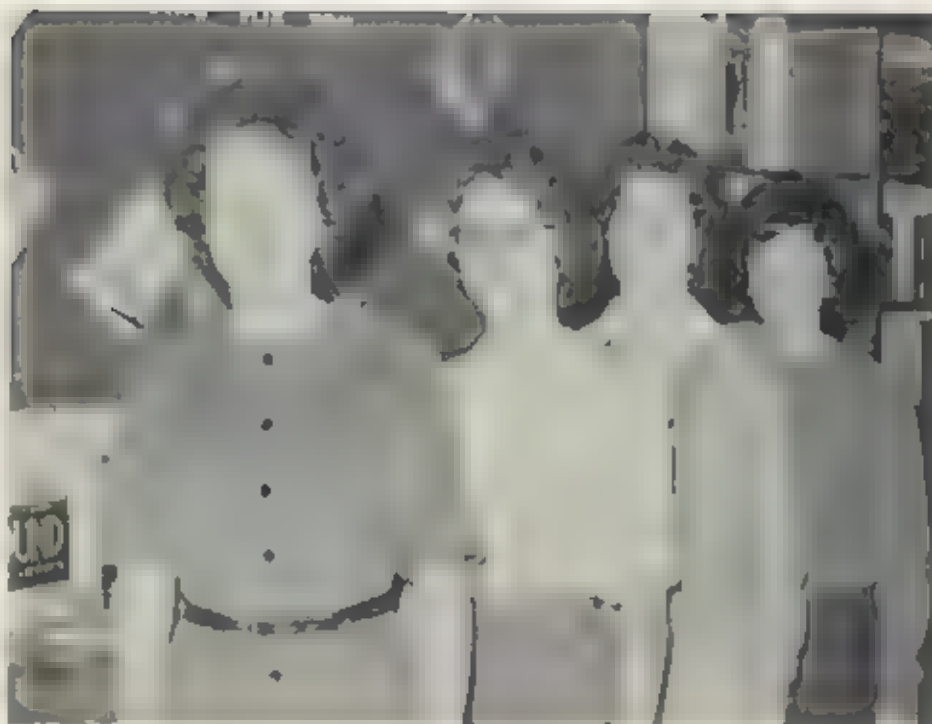

The library club is primarily a service club. This year the club members have been quite active by helping the librarian process over fifteen hundred new books. Working with the card catalogue, organizing the magazine files for issues obtained in the past five years, and spending extra time at the charging desk compose the major part of the duties of the "veterans" of the club. The tasks of the new members include shelving books, arranging the circulation, and learning all they can about the library.

There are several times during the year when the hard work of the members is rewarded. In the spring the seniors take a trip to either a public or private library to see how a very large library is run. In April, during National Book-week, a book tea will be held for the faculty. At the end of the year, the seniors will be honored by a banquet.

Memories of the hard work and the good times of the Library Club will linger in the minds of the members of the club. The experience they have gained will go with them throughout their lives.

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, under the leadership of Miss Rose Corum and Mr. Robert McCain, have been continually growing for the past three years.

The name Hi-Y represents a movement of youths who are committed to setting examples of Christian living in their high school and community.

Christian motives, standards, and ethics govern the many activities of the club. These activities include visiting points of interest, helping others, hearing speakers, raising funds for projects, for our World Service pledge, and having socials. Each year delegates of both clubs attend the State Conventions. This year's conventions were held in Salisbury for the Tri-Hi-Y and in Charlotte for the Hi-Y.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The Dramatics Club is an organization which many enjoy. The only requirement for membership is that the student be a senior.

Two plays were presented this year by the Dramatics Club. The benefits from these plays were used for the senior class trip.

The various activities in which this club participates arouse the interest of the members in the field of dramatics.

DEBATING CLUB

Officers

Debating is a rewarding experience for interested persons. Learning to organize needed material in logical order and supporting statements with facts instead of prejudices is a vital asset of debating.

Debating demands accuracy. It requires a knowledge of the library; thus a debater learns to find needed information quickly. A debater learns to think under pressure and to make sound decisions.

The first debate was held in the spring and was known as the triangular debate. The winning teams then entered the District debates held at Woman's College. Winners then traveled to Chapel Hill for the state finals.

The main objective of the Mathematics Club is to promote an interest in the study of all phases of mathematics. Only those students with a B average now taking college preparatory math are eligible for membership. In this way the membership is limited to those who are truly interested in math.

The Mathematics Club is not all work and no play, for we have held monthly meetings and two social meetings this year. The members have taken field trips to establishments where math is extensively used.

The club is a member of Mu Alpha Theta, a national mathematics association of senior high schools and junior colleges.

F. T. A.

The main purpose of the Future Teachers of America Club is to interest students of the school in the profession and to give them a chance to get practical experience by helping the teachers in various instances.

This year the F.T.A. sponsored a Be Kind to Teachers Week. One week was set aside during which the teachers received special courtesies. The members of our club gave their time and talents in order to make this project successful.

This club is helpful to not only the students but also to the faculty.

F. H. A.

The main purpose of the F.H.A. is to further interest in home economics. Each member has completed one year of, or is taking, home economics.

Each year the new members are initiated into the club by the old members. The initiation theme is related to personal grooming, with each new member poorly groomed and at the command of the old members.

This year the new members were formally initiated in an impressive candle-lighting ceremony, given by the officers at the annual Christmas party. The members' mothers were guests at the party, which was the main event of the local chapter.

Some of the other activities in which the members have participated were the district and county rallies, the State F.H.A. Convention in Raleigh, and observance of National F.H.A. Week.

HOMECOMING 1961

As the Homecoming festivities drew near, all the students began making plans for the annual occasion. The Homecoming Queen and her court were selected by the student body, and Ernestine Spoon was chosen to lead the grand procession. And lead she did, in the grace and beauty of a real queen! Everyone stood and cheered as the queen in all her splendor descended the aisle to receive her throne. Her face covered with smiles, she was crowned 1961 Homecoming Queen. All in all, the students had much fun and will remember this event for years to come.

Student Council President Mickey Cox and football captain Skip Parker make the crowning of the queen official.

HOMEcoming

QUEEN 1961

Questing Spoon

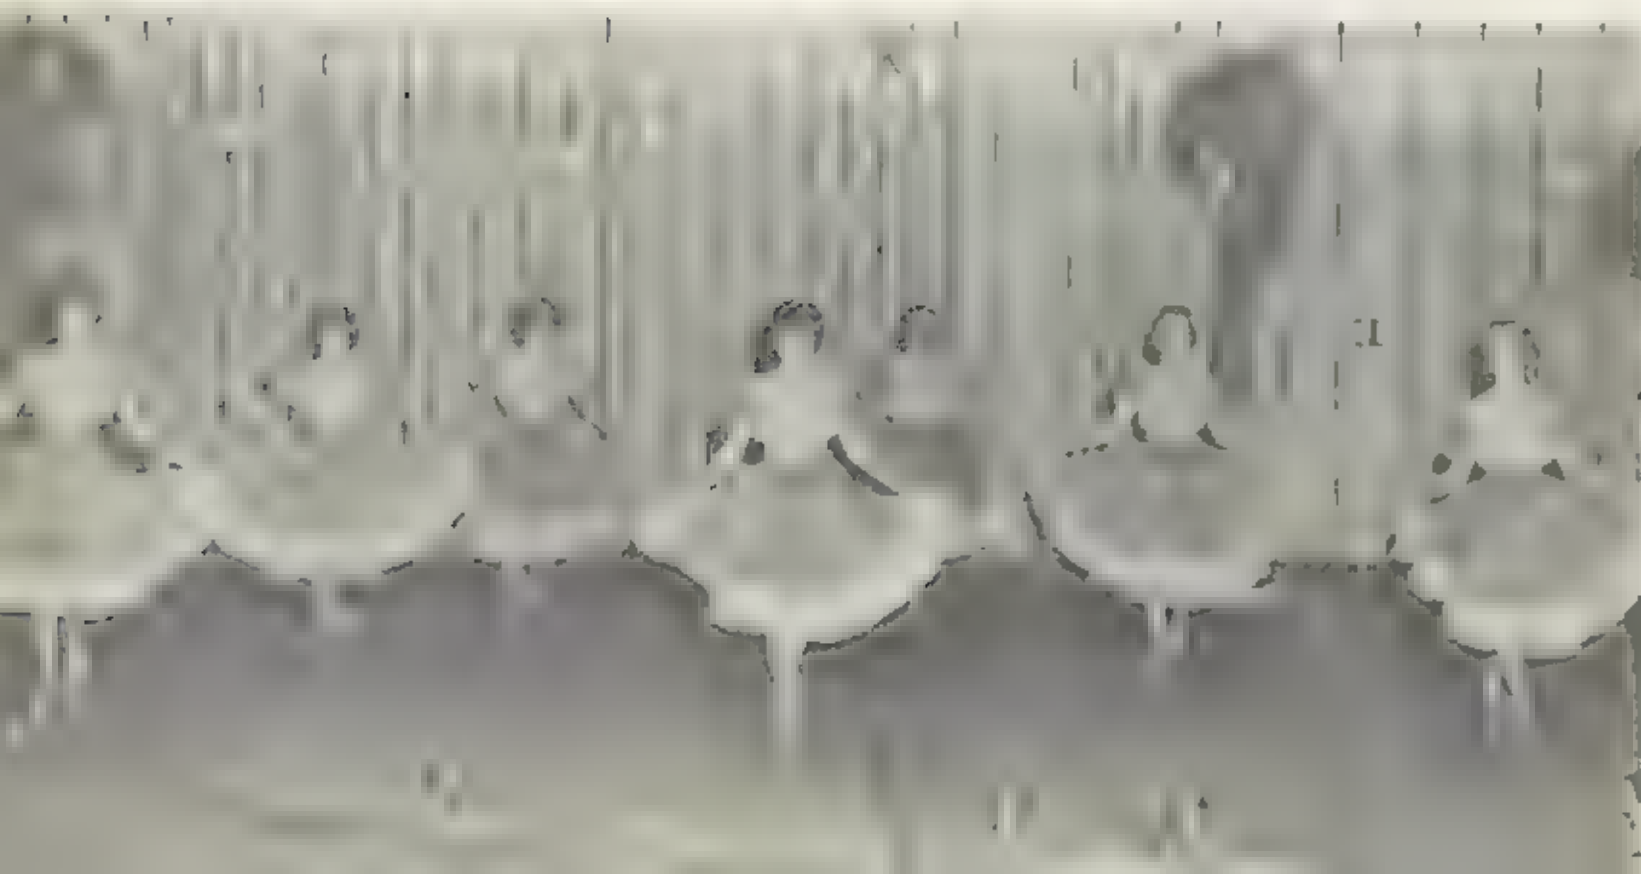

Bloody Mary is a friend of mine.

I could have danced all night.

The beautiful girls from Bal. Fla.

Tropical Paradise was the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom of 1961. Plans for the annual event were begun six weeks in advance. The decoration committee will never forget making the thousands of paper flowers and "throwing" crepe paper decorations to hide the walls. Responsibility for the program fell on the program committee to put on an interesting intermission program. Refreshments were tasty and delicious. Everyone danced to the fine music of the band or sat at one of the many tables in the gym. The night was a dreamy one, filled with all the excitement which every Junior-Senior Prom brings. It was truly a "night to remember."

Dr. Livingstone, I presume!

A Night To Remember . . .

We're having a heat wave, a tropical heat wave.

Take my bags, I'm a stranger in paradise.

In acknowledgement:

We, the editors, have tried our best to present to the students of Ragsdale an annual portraying our school life. To the following people we give our special thanks:

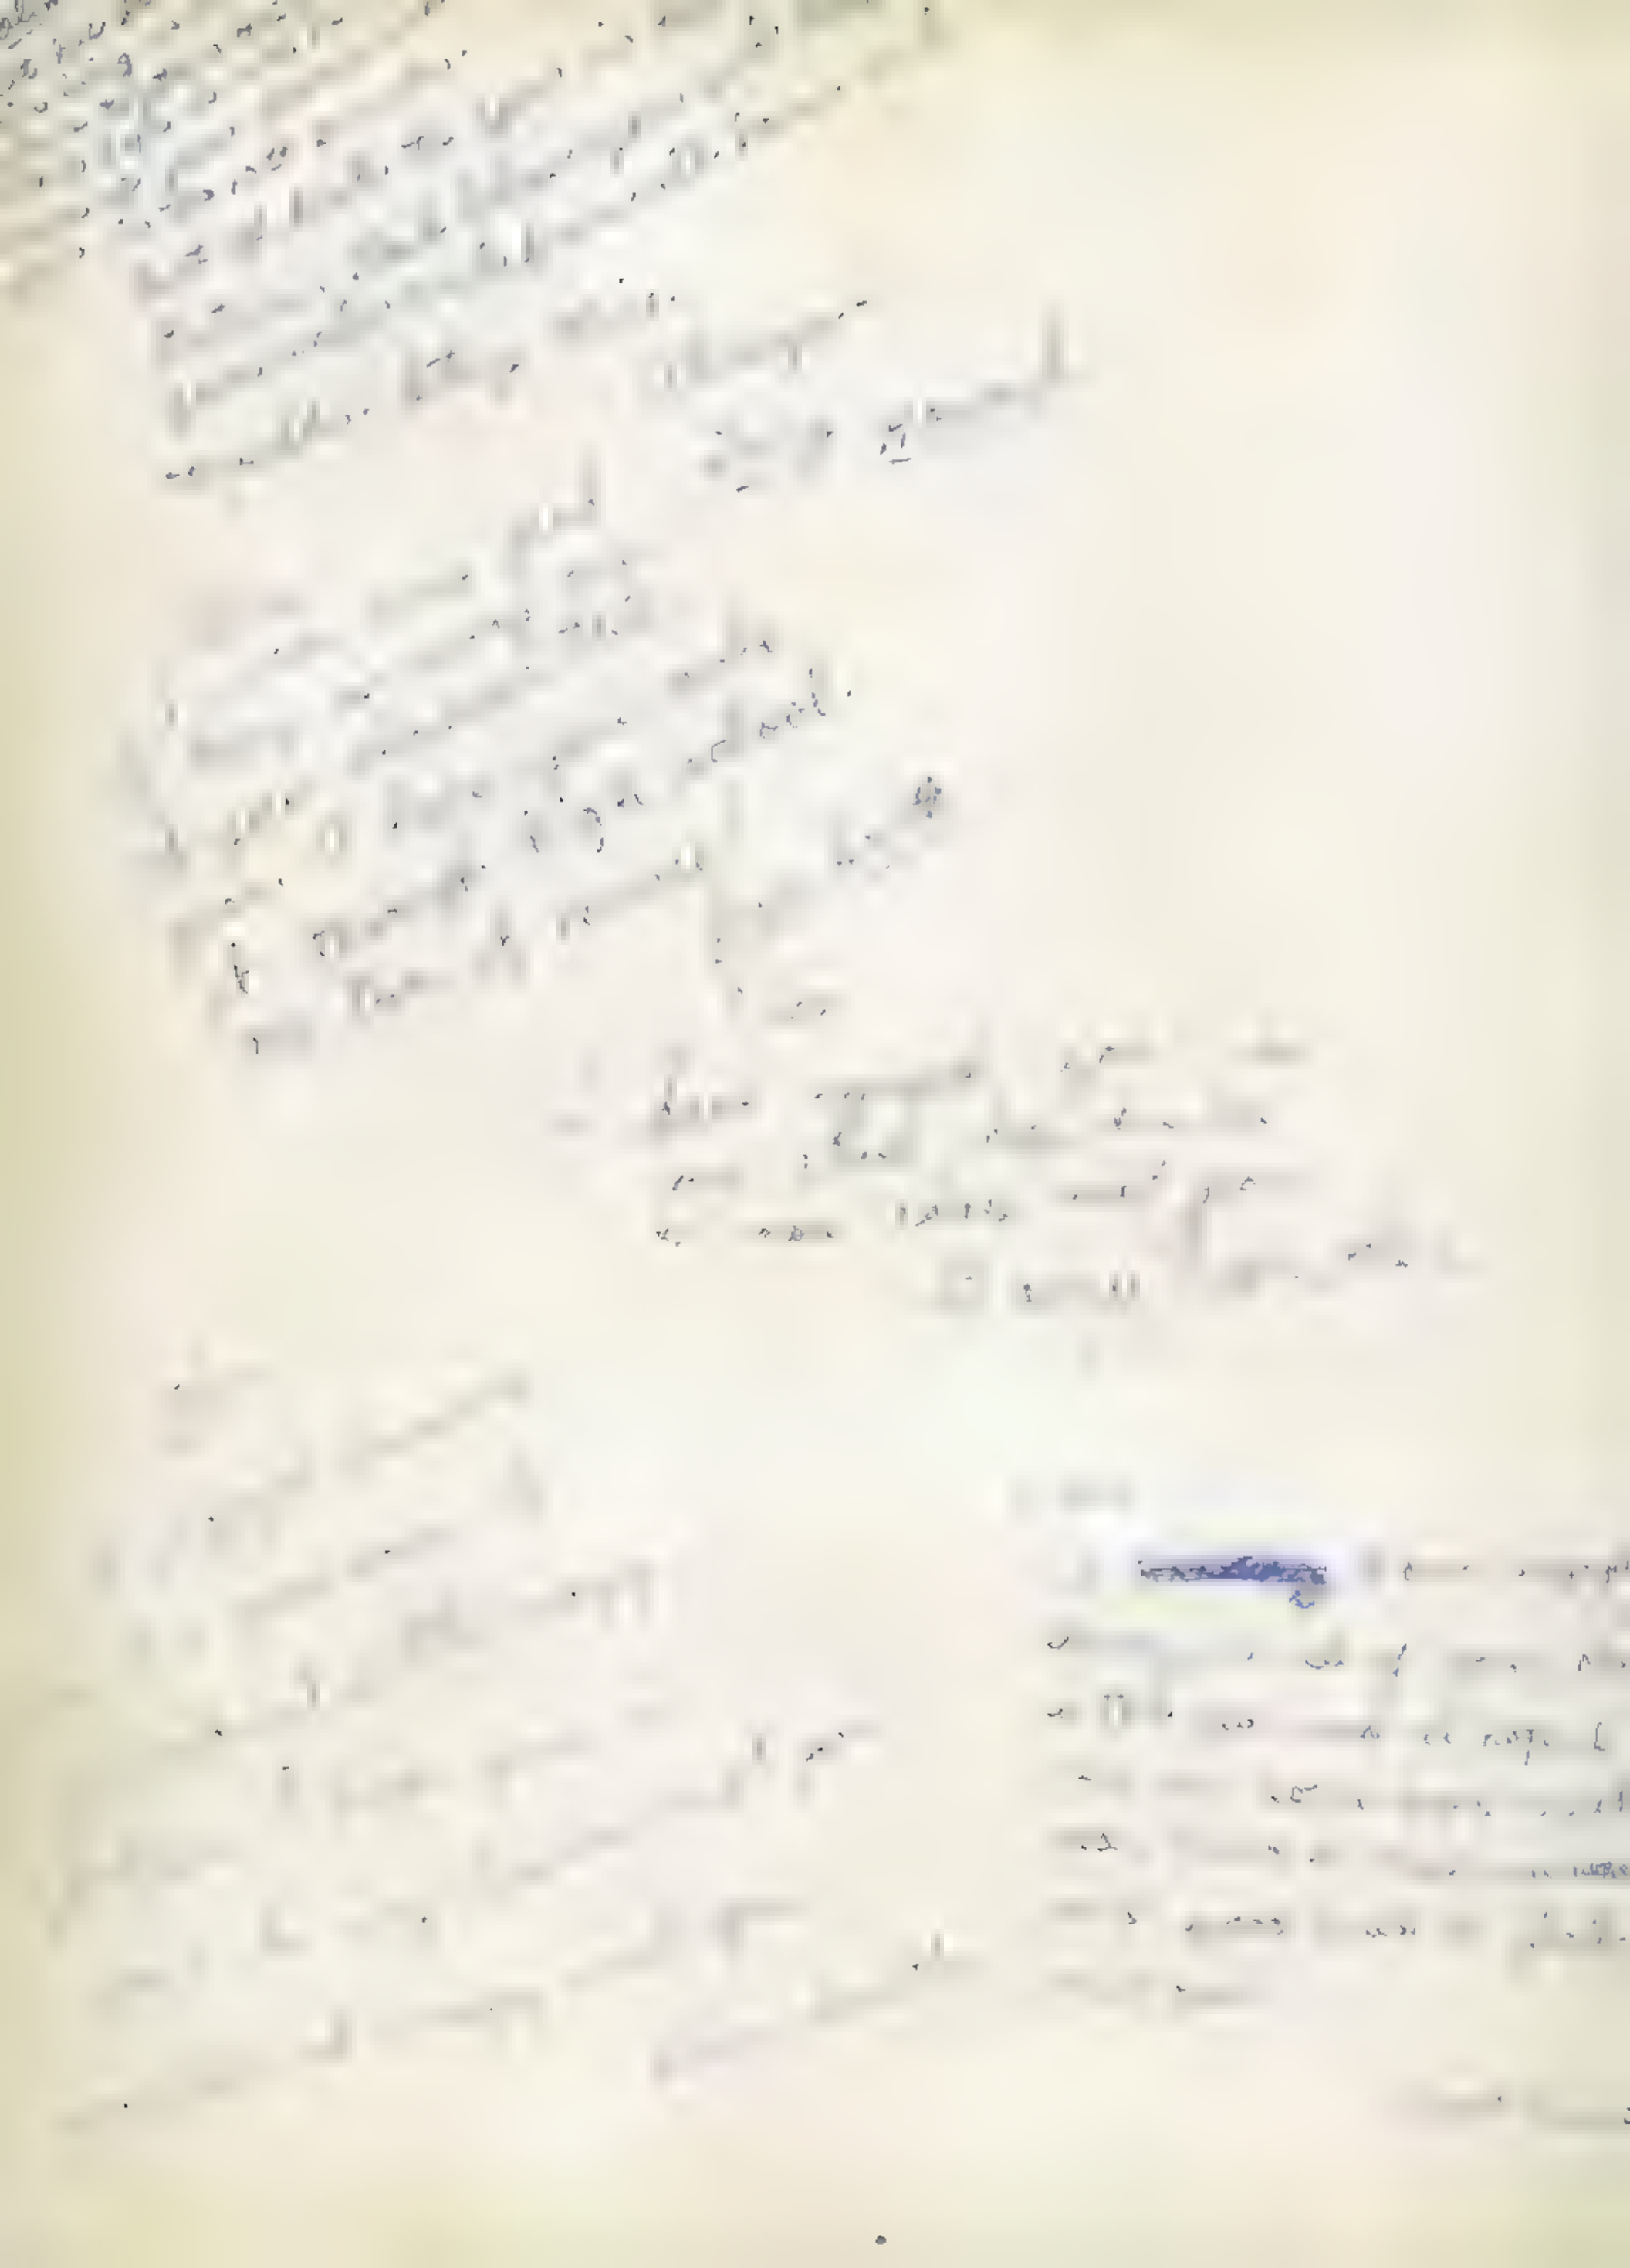

To Mrs. Lane who patiently worked with us during the year.

To all the members of the annual staff who gave invaluable time and aid. We particularly thank Jane and Rosemary, who worked untiringly writing bills and gathering ads; and Caldwell and Bill, who took all those pictures and worried with other cameras when ours failed.

To the teachers, who patiently overlooked our not-too-infrequent distractions because of our work on the annual.

To you, the subscribers, for purchasing this book and in this way helping the annual staff.

The Editors
